Automotive Segment (ATV)

Revenue and Segment Result

- Revenue increased due to
 - improved demand worldwide for smaller-sized cars in the context of national car-scrap bonus programs in Europe and an economic stimulus program in China;
 - end of customers' de-stocking in the supply chain in EU and Japan.
- Segment Result improved strongly due to higher production levels, cost savings, and the increase in revenue.

Major recent developments

- Cooperation with Bosch for power semiconductors started on April 20, 2009.
- Steady growth market share from 3.9% in 1994 to 9.5% in 2008 (Source: Strategy Analytics 1995 to May 2009).
- World's number 2 automotive semiconductor supplier with USD 1,742m revenue in CY08, second to number 1 with USD 1,744m (Source: Strategy Analytics, July 2009).

Industrial & Multimarket Segment (IMM)

Revenue and Segment Result

- Revenue increased due to stronger end customer demand for computing, communications and industrial products.
- Segment Result improved significantly. The principal drivers were higher sales volumes as well as improved factory loading, besides cost savings.

Major recent developments

- Cooperation with LS Industrial Systems for power modules in white goods and industrial drives for the Asian market.
- Again market leader in CY08 for power semiconductors with 10.2% market share (Source: IMS Research, August 2009).

Chip Card & Security Segment (CCS)

Revenue and Segment Result

- Revenues increased slightly as stronger revenues in the SIM card business were partially offset by lower revenues in the ID business.
- Segment Result was positive again with a significant increase in sequential earnings, reflecting principally the overall increase in factory utilization.

Major recent developments

- Infineon has implemented chipcard projects in more than 60 countries.
- Recently won gov't ID projects: Turkey, Saudi Arabia, Bahrein, UAE, Oman, India.
- Recently won transportation projects: Beijing, Shenzhen, Taiwan, and Rio de Janeiro.
- Infineon has been number 1 in chips for chipcard applications in each year since 1997 through 2008 (Source: Frost & Sullivan, 1998-2009).

Wireless Solutions Segment (WLS)

Revenue and Segment Result

- Revenues increased significantly on a sequential basis, mainly due to increased demand of some major mobile phone platform customers for both HSDPA and Ultra Low Cost solutions.
- Segment Result increased significantly and was positive, reflecting the increase in revenues and higher production levels.

Major recent developments

- Two single-chip design wins at Nokia:
 - a.) XMM™1100 GSM/GPRS platform ramping in Q4 CY09,
 - b.) XMM™2130 EDGE platform ramping in 2H CY10.
- Examples of HSDPA phones launched based on XMM™6080 platform: KM900 („Arena“) and KF900 („Prada“) by LG; C6620 and C6625 by Samsung; 831P by Panasonic.

Wireline Communications Segment (WLC)

Revenue and Segment Result

- Revenues increased mostly driven by the CPE business where
 - several high-end Integrated Access Devices (IAD) projects at major European carriers ramped, and
 - the system-on-a-chip for the low-cost ADSL market continued to ramp.
- Segment Result increased mainly due to the increase in revenues and improved factory loading.

Major recent developments

- Sale of WLC announced on July 7, 2009. Closing expected in autumn 2009.
- After the closing, WLC will become LANTIQ.
- In 2007, Infineon held the number 1 position with a market share of 22% of the wireline access network IC market (Source: Gartner Dataquest, June 2008, excluding cable modem transceiver ICs).
