Prel. Q1 results confirm favourable fundamental changes

Nabaltec's key figures for Q1 strongly support our positive view on the stock. Results were even above our optimistic estimates and reflect the strong operational leverage and the positive impact of price increases on the bottom-line.

- Sales increased organically by 45% yoy (14% qoq) to a new record level of € 35.3m (eH&Ae € 32.5m).
- EBIT jumped by 320% yoy to € 3.9m (eH&A € 2.9m) and boasted the EBIT margin to 11.0% (eH&A 8.8%).

Management confirmed its outlook for 2011, expecting double digit sales growth and disproportionate bottom line growth. It also stated that Q1 order intake has been significantly above Q1 sales. Hence, Nabaltec looks well on track to achieve or even beat our estimates for 2011 also considering that new products such as its boehmite for PCBs and its stabiliser for PVC should gain traction in course of 2011.

Nabaltec's results and that of main competitor Albemarle (owning German based Martinswerke) both reflect the fundamental change in this niche industry.

1. Price levels are moving up on the back of tight capacities. Nabaltec announced earlier price increases in the range of 17-23% for high performance mineral based flame retardants (50% of group sales) for 2011.
2. Mineral based flame retardants thrive at the cost of brominated due to increasing regulatory scrutiny and increasing public environmental awareness, which leads OEMs to phase out brominated flame retardants.

PT of € 17.10 is based on FCFY 2012E implying a valuation of 9.7x EV/EBIT 12E.
